Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Europe as a major energy consumer faces a number of challenges when addressing future energy needs. Among these challenges are a rapidly rising global demand and competition for energy resources from emerging economies such as China and India, persistent instability in energy producing regions such as the Middle East, a fragmented internal European energy market, and a growing need to shift fuels in order to address climate change policy. As a result, energy supply security has become a key concern for European nations and the European Union (EU). A key element of the EU s energy supply strategy has been to shift to a greater use of natural gas. Europe as a whole is a major importer of natural gas. Russia is Europe s most important natural gas supplier, accounting for 34 of Europe s natural gas imports. Europe s natural gas consumption is projected to grow while its own domestic natural gas production continues to decline. If trends continue as projected, Europe s dependence on Russia as a supplier is likely to grow. And, while it could be in Europe s interest to explore alternative sources for its natural gas needs, it is uncertain whether Europe as a whole can, or is willing to, replace .
